Apply to the Bilateral Exchange Program for Spring 2015

Applications for the Spring 2015 are welcome starting from today. The deadline to complete the online application is September 19th.

If you have any questions, don’t hesitate to stop by the Office of International Programs, Building 10 or contact the Study Abroad Advisors, at <oipc@aui.ma> and <oipm@aui.ma>

The number of places listed below may change as we know how many students will be coming to AUI. There are some new partner institutions to consider. Some other possibilities may also become available in the coming 2 weeks.

While degree programs vary from institution to another, we have noted the AUI programs in which some similar classes are offered at the host institution. University Core Curriculum (UCC) has been added to those institutions rich in classes that are equivalent to AUI.

If you insist on taking specific classes, then you may be disappointed. Your application can be approved long before you know which courses will be offered. Students who have 30 to 60 credits now face a far better chance of finding a number of many classes that fit their degree program. Students with 75 credits or more face limitations and fewer choices. Students with over 90 credits may not apply as too many end up cancelling.

Also, be aware that a few institutions require a TOEFL score of paper based 580 or IBT of 90 taken within the last two years.
